To a good friend
and one of the best.
Remember me always,
Donna '65

Dear Barb,
You're one of those people that "the more you know them, the more you like them," so I am happy that I could know you better this year. Wherever you may be, stay close to Christ and Marys and sometimes,
please pray for me.
Sr. Ann Elizabeth

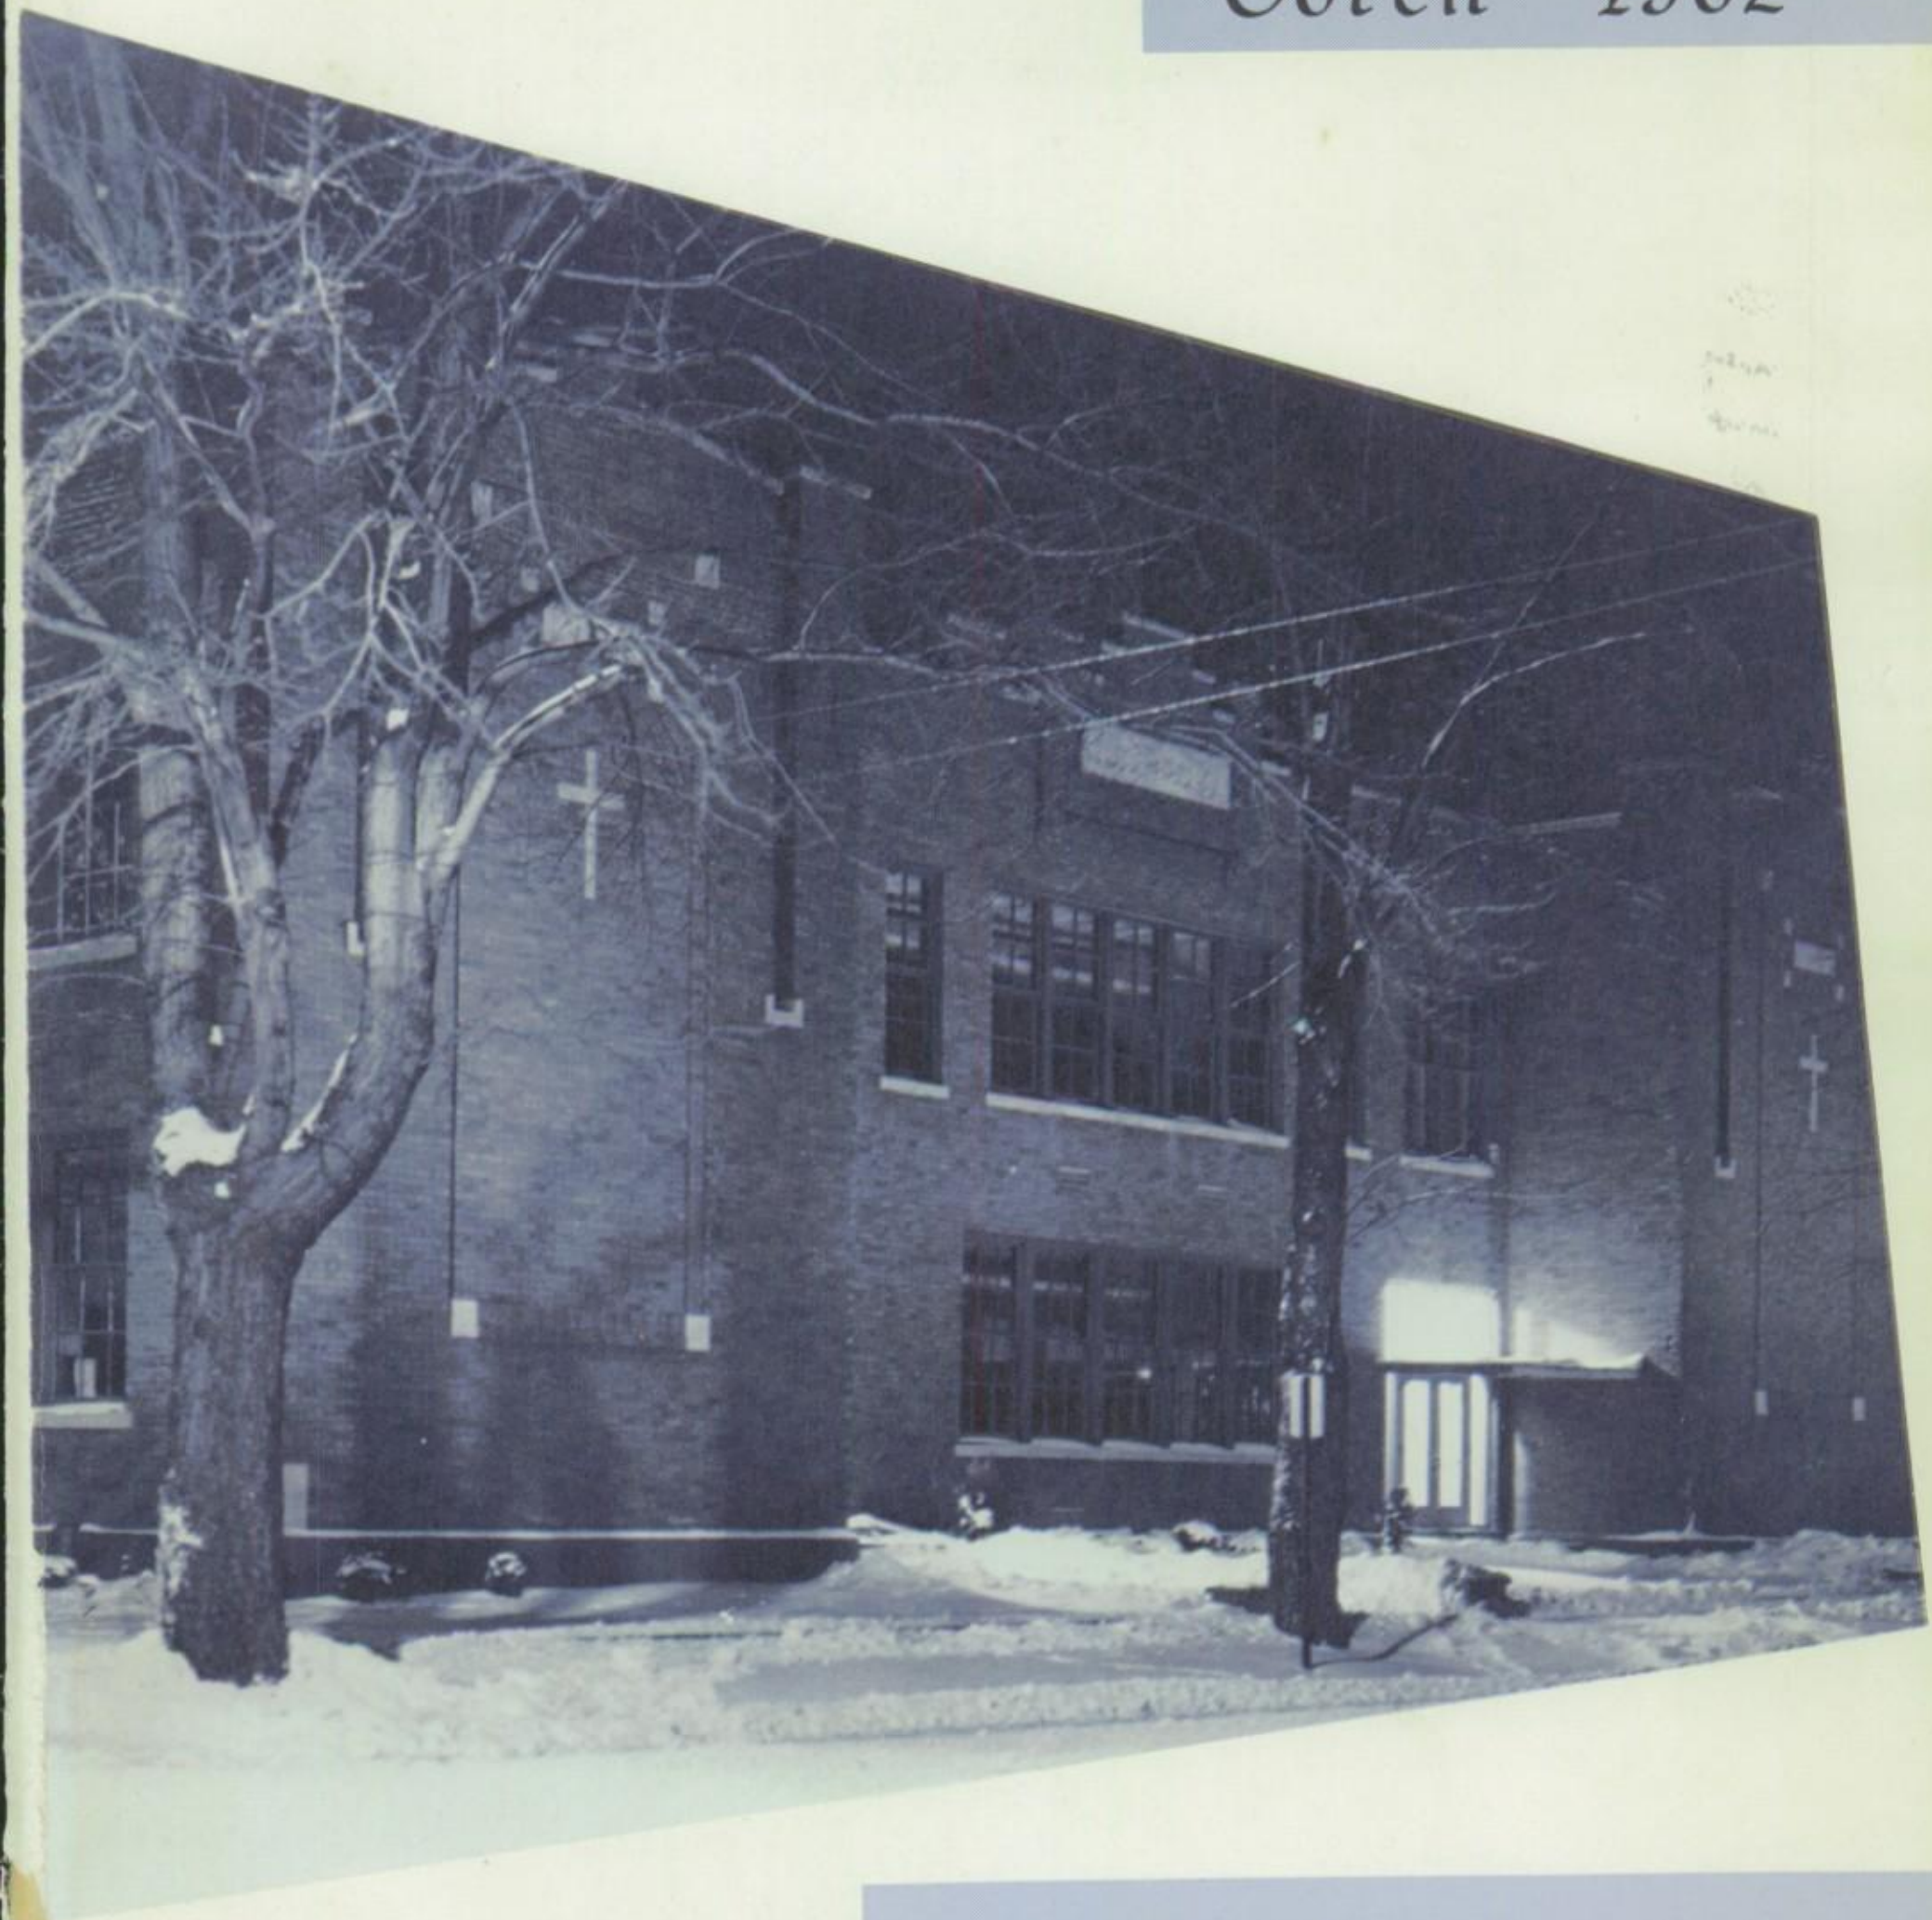

Dear Barb,
May you continue to share forth the Christlife by your unending charity.
It's really been a pleasure having such a like girl as you in charge.
God bless you for everything.
Sr. Mary
Sr. Louise Anne O.P.

Dear Barb,
When I think of you, and that is every day, I do not consider what and how much you do for me, but simply the great glory which your faith and generosity give to God. God bless you a thousand times for everything you did to relieve me of classroom chores and etc. God love you Barb, so that your love will urge you to pray for me.
In St. Dominic,
Sr. Maria Goretti

Dear Barbara,
May you ever be a "torch" to light the way for others and make their lives brighter by your presence!
Sr. Wilhelmina O.P.

Dear Barbara,
Keep up the good work, and may you always be as faithful to your trusts as ever.

AT THE HEART OF ST. JOSEPH'S, is its first-rate faculty. The Dominican Sisters and lay teachers combine to provide us with a well-rounded education. In the course of the year they must serve as teachers as well as pinch-hitting in a myriad of other tasks. Our erudite instructors instill in us the fundamental principles of our religion and our society.

Feast Day Mood Mirrors Seraphic Spirit

LAUGHTER CLIMAXED THE UNCOVERING of the cake, baked by the homemaking class for Father's Feast Day. The top frosting clung to the cover unexpectedly when the presentation was made.

WATCHFUL EYES AND ATTENTIVE EARS ENJOY the entertaining selections sung by the Glee Club. Representatives from our various clubs then wished Father Trotter a "Happy Feast Day."

A BLESSED DAY is begun as Father Trotter offers the Holy Mass. The students and faculty attended, offering for his intention the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

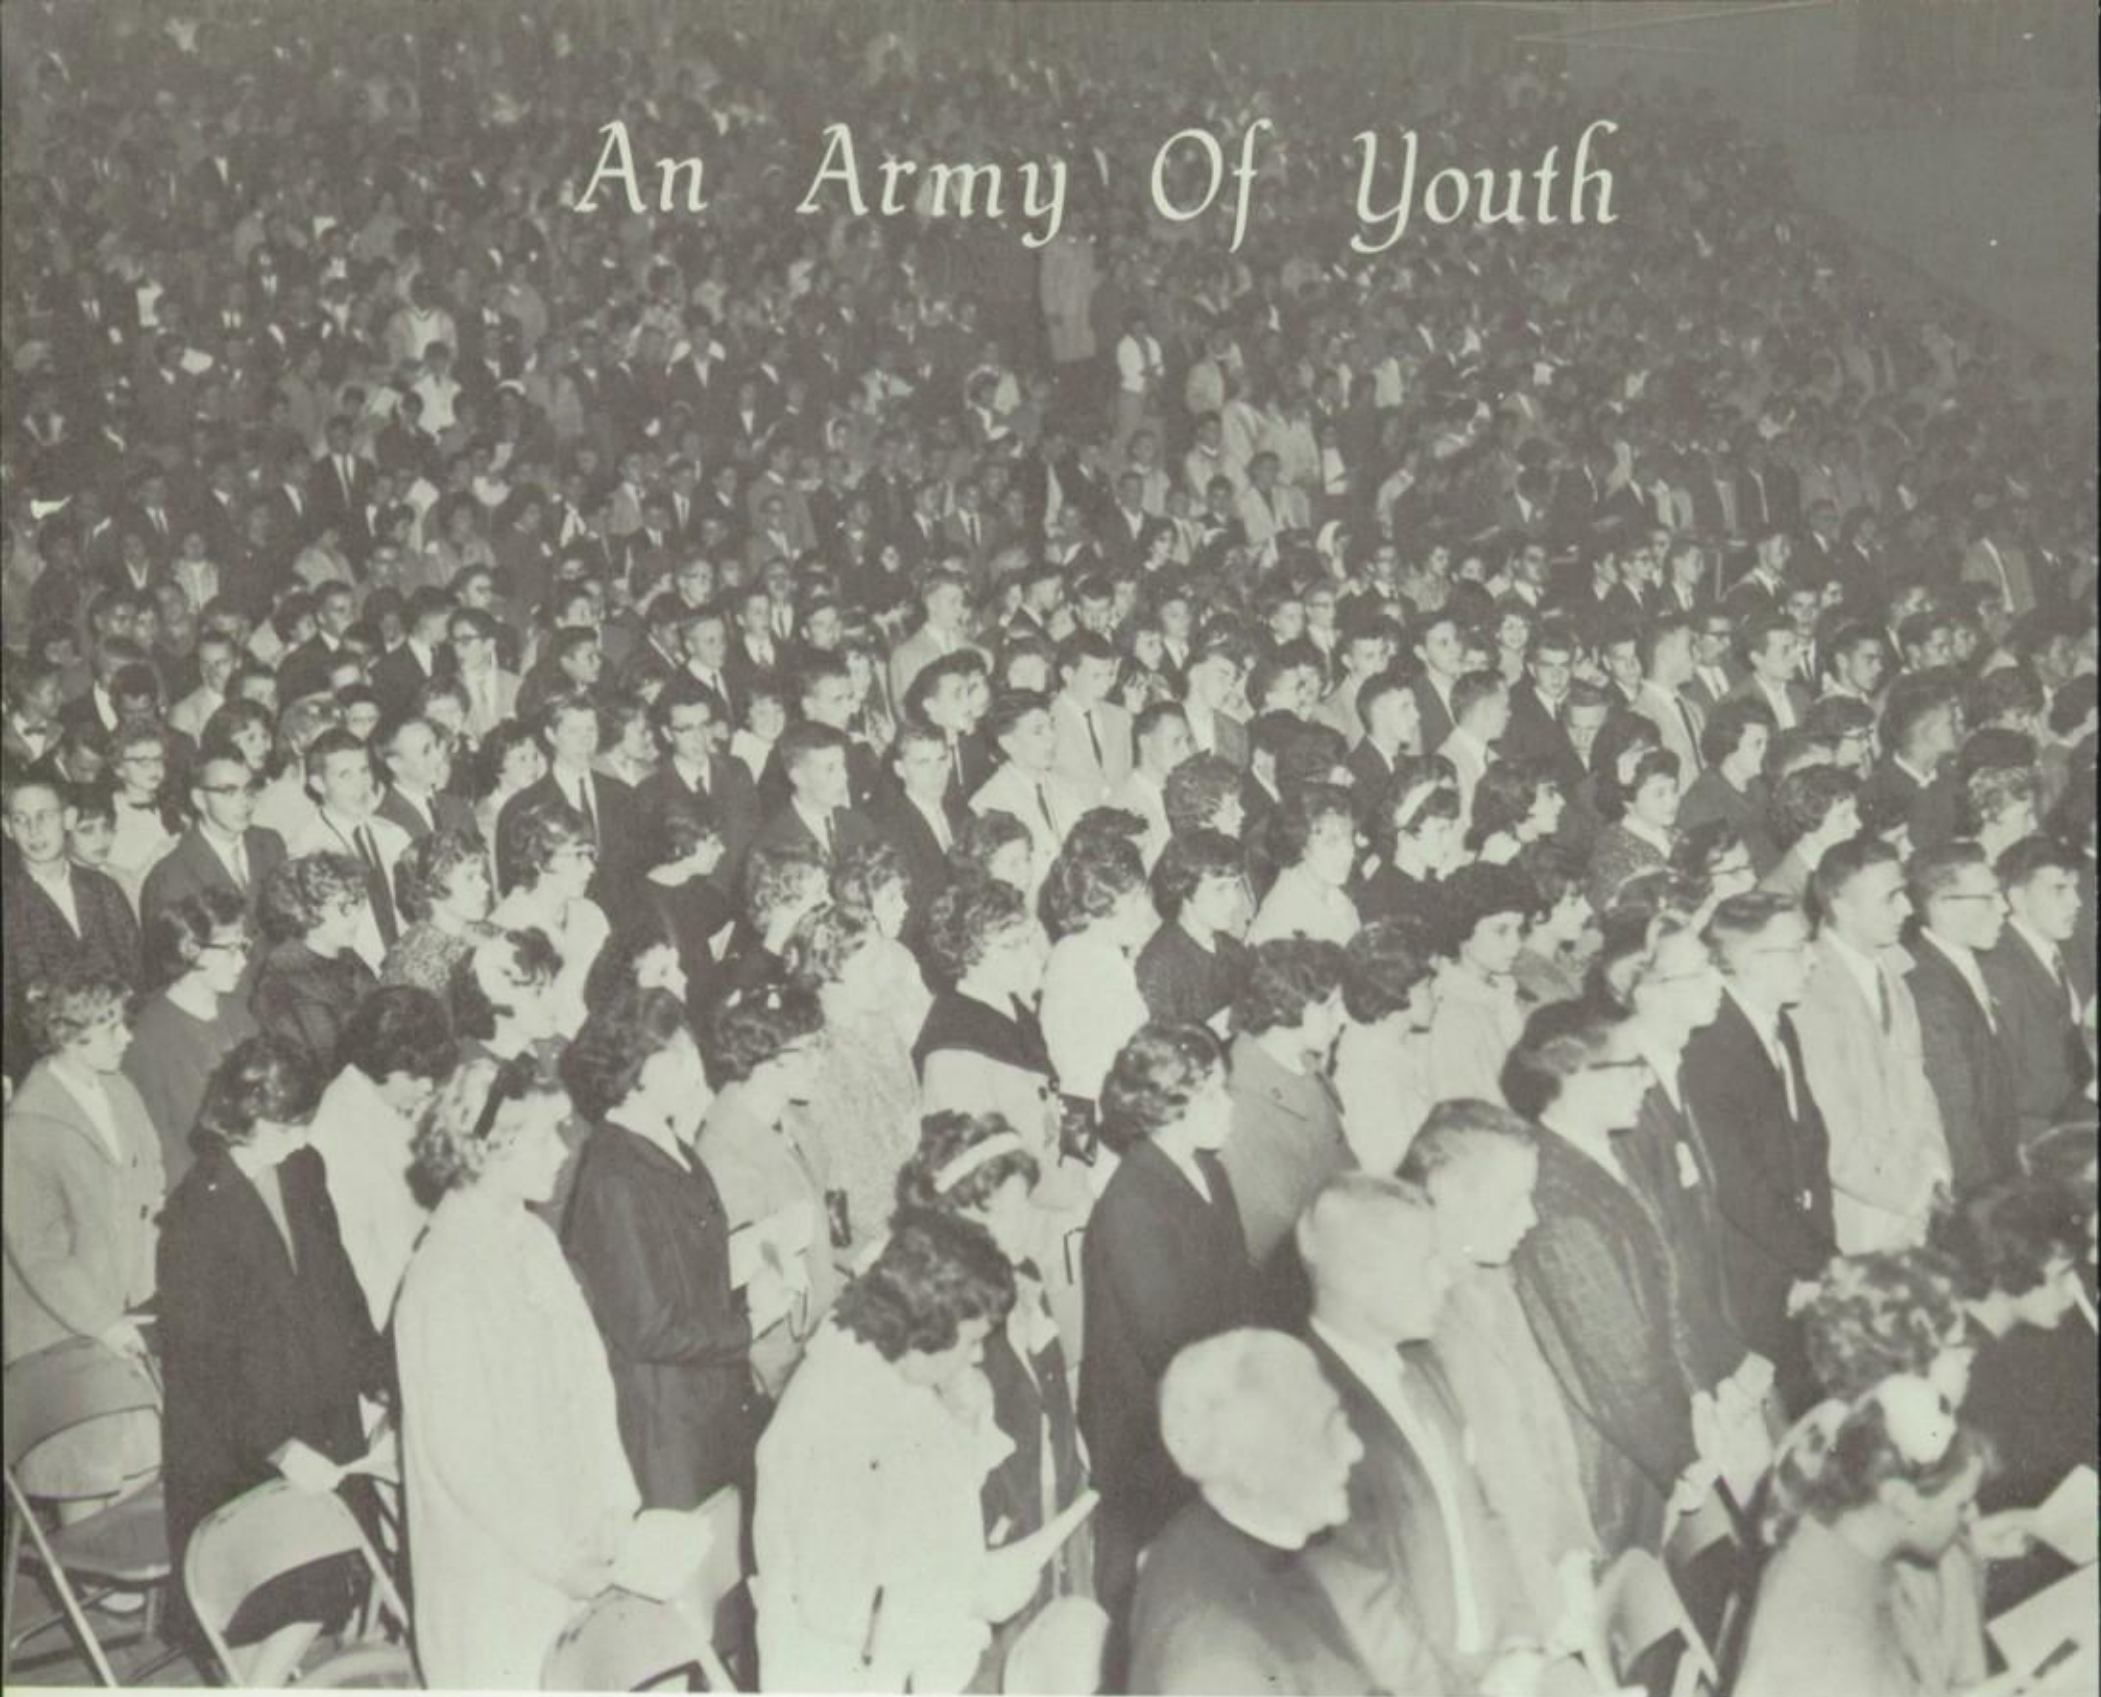

TIME FOR SPIRITUAL INVENTORY is afforded every student by the annual retreat to contemplate alone for a few brief moments . . . a reassurance . . . of his growth and development as a whole Christian man.

The Apex Of A Shining Life Persists With Polishing

THE SILENT EXPRESSION OF SERIOUS THOUGHT, composing a pattern of black and white, is reflected on the face of Terry Leonard in mute testimony of the spiritual direction given by retreat master, Fr. James Keller, O.F.M.

An Army Of Youth

THE OBSERVANCE OF CATHOLIC YOUTH WEEK, Oct. 23-29, culminated in the rally honoring Christ the King. St. Joseph once again hosted the rally, highlighted by the crowning of a statue of Christ.

"Venite ad me omnes." And the CHALLENGE of Christ was accepted by fifteen hundred Catholic High School students of Bay City, who pledged their allegiance to their King. Knees bent, heads bowed, praises peeled from the lips of the supplicants, when in unison they met the CHALLENGE.

COLORFUL BANNERS PROCLAIMED the glory of Christ the King and heralded the entrance of each school in procession. Ron Marande and Bill Reder bear the standard of St. Joseph High School.

A Dynamic Unity Of Strength And Fidelity Under The Banner Of Christ The King

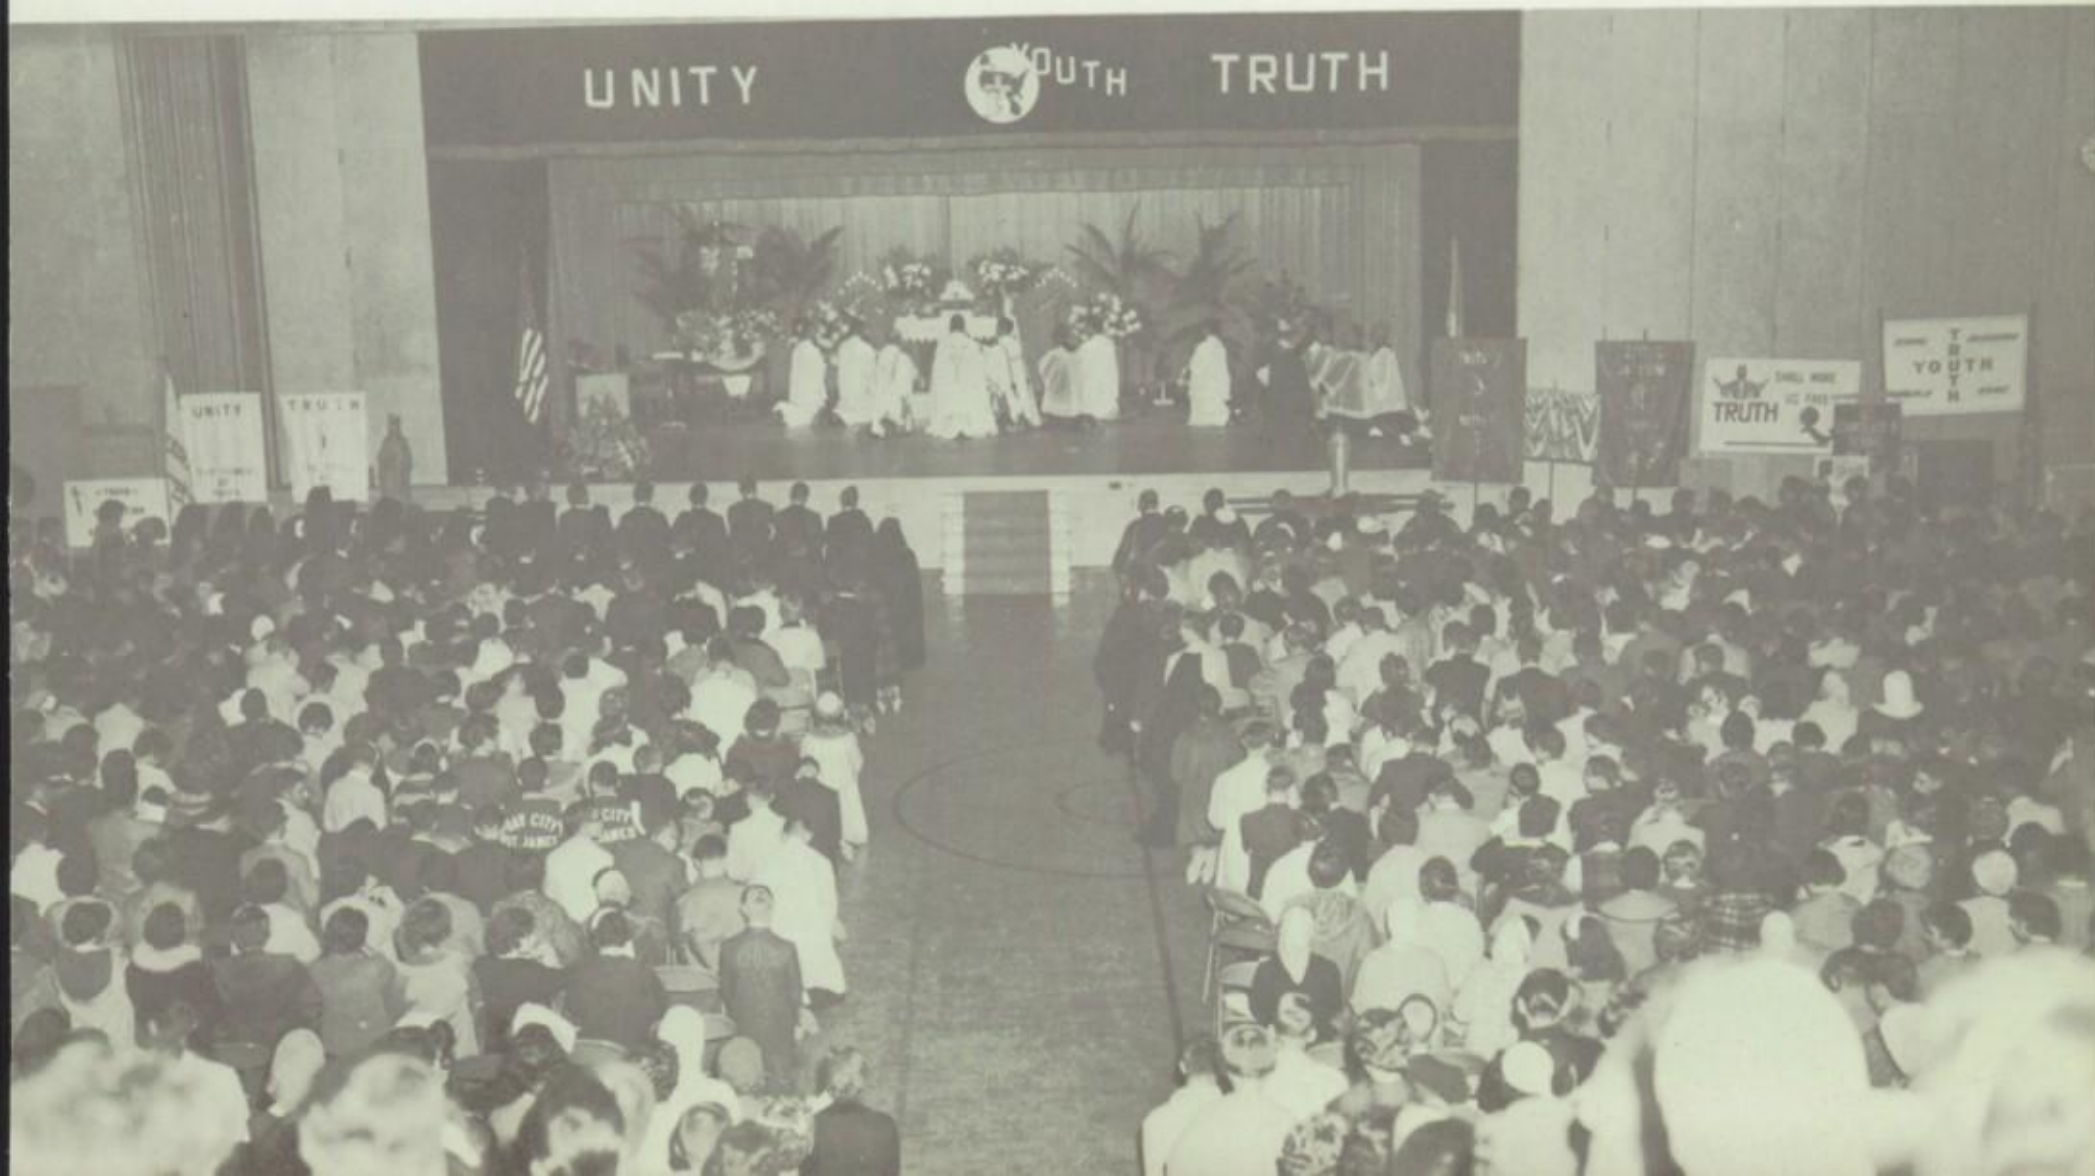

AN ATMOSPHERE OF REGAL SPLENDOR filled the auditorium as the overflow crowd entered in solemn procession, led by acolytes; George Lynch of St. Joseph and Fred Craves of St. James.

SOLEMN BENEDICTION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT, celebrated by Bishop Wozniki who was assisted by the priests of the Bay area, closed the second annual rally.

THE PRAYERS OF HUNDREDS FUSED EN MASSE during the rally, personifying the theme of National Catholic Youth Week, Unity Youth Truth.

Where Quality Is First And Performance Counts

THE ENVIABLE PRESTIGE of the altar boy is attested to by the service he performs. J. Favazza, G. Johnson, D. Kubczak, and G. Brandow assist Father Sullivan C.S.Sp. at Benediction.

PERFECTION AND PRECISION are the trademarks of the boys who assist our priests in the observance of the liturgy of the Church. Acolytes: M. LaPorte and H. White; Cross Bearer: G. Lynch; Torch Bearers: G. Ellavich and E. Srebinski, J. Cody and D. DeRosier, H. Heading and J. Taber

THE GLOWING TAPER ILLUMINATES the sanctuary and profiles Patrick Gallagher as he is seen in a familiar role of the acolyte.

Profiles Poised

THE RELIGIOUS TRAINING OF THE INDIVIDUAL receives its proper emphasis in the schema of education. The student is made to bear in mind that God-centered lives come from God-centered days. Through daily Mass, the sacraments, apostolic activities, and the academic investigation and search for the truth, he is brought to a comprehensive vision of the whole of God's world.

In Purpose And Direction

THE AUSTERE REMINDER of the finite reality that is man is impressed upon the forehead of R. Dzurka by Father Stark C. S. Sp.

QUIVERING VOTIVE CANDLES BREATHE a resonance in tune with the aves of a noon time rosary.

THE GOLDEN MASS ACCENTUATES THE GROWTH in the spiritual life found in the God-centered environment of St. Joseph's.

THE DAILY SCENE IS SET by J. Thibault and K. Mahoney for the observance of an advent custom familiar to all Josephites. The fashioning of the advent wreaths is an exclusive project of the sodality.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS takes on special significance for students who share in the joy of giving. Packaging food and gifts for distribution are sodalists: J. Kopec, C. Kussro and N. Rohde.

Heavenly Dedication

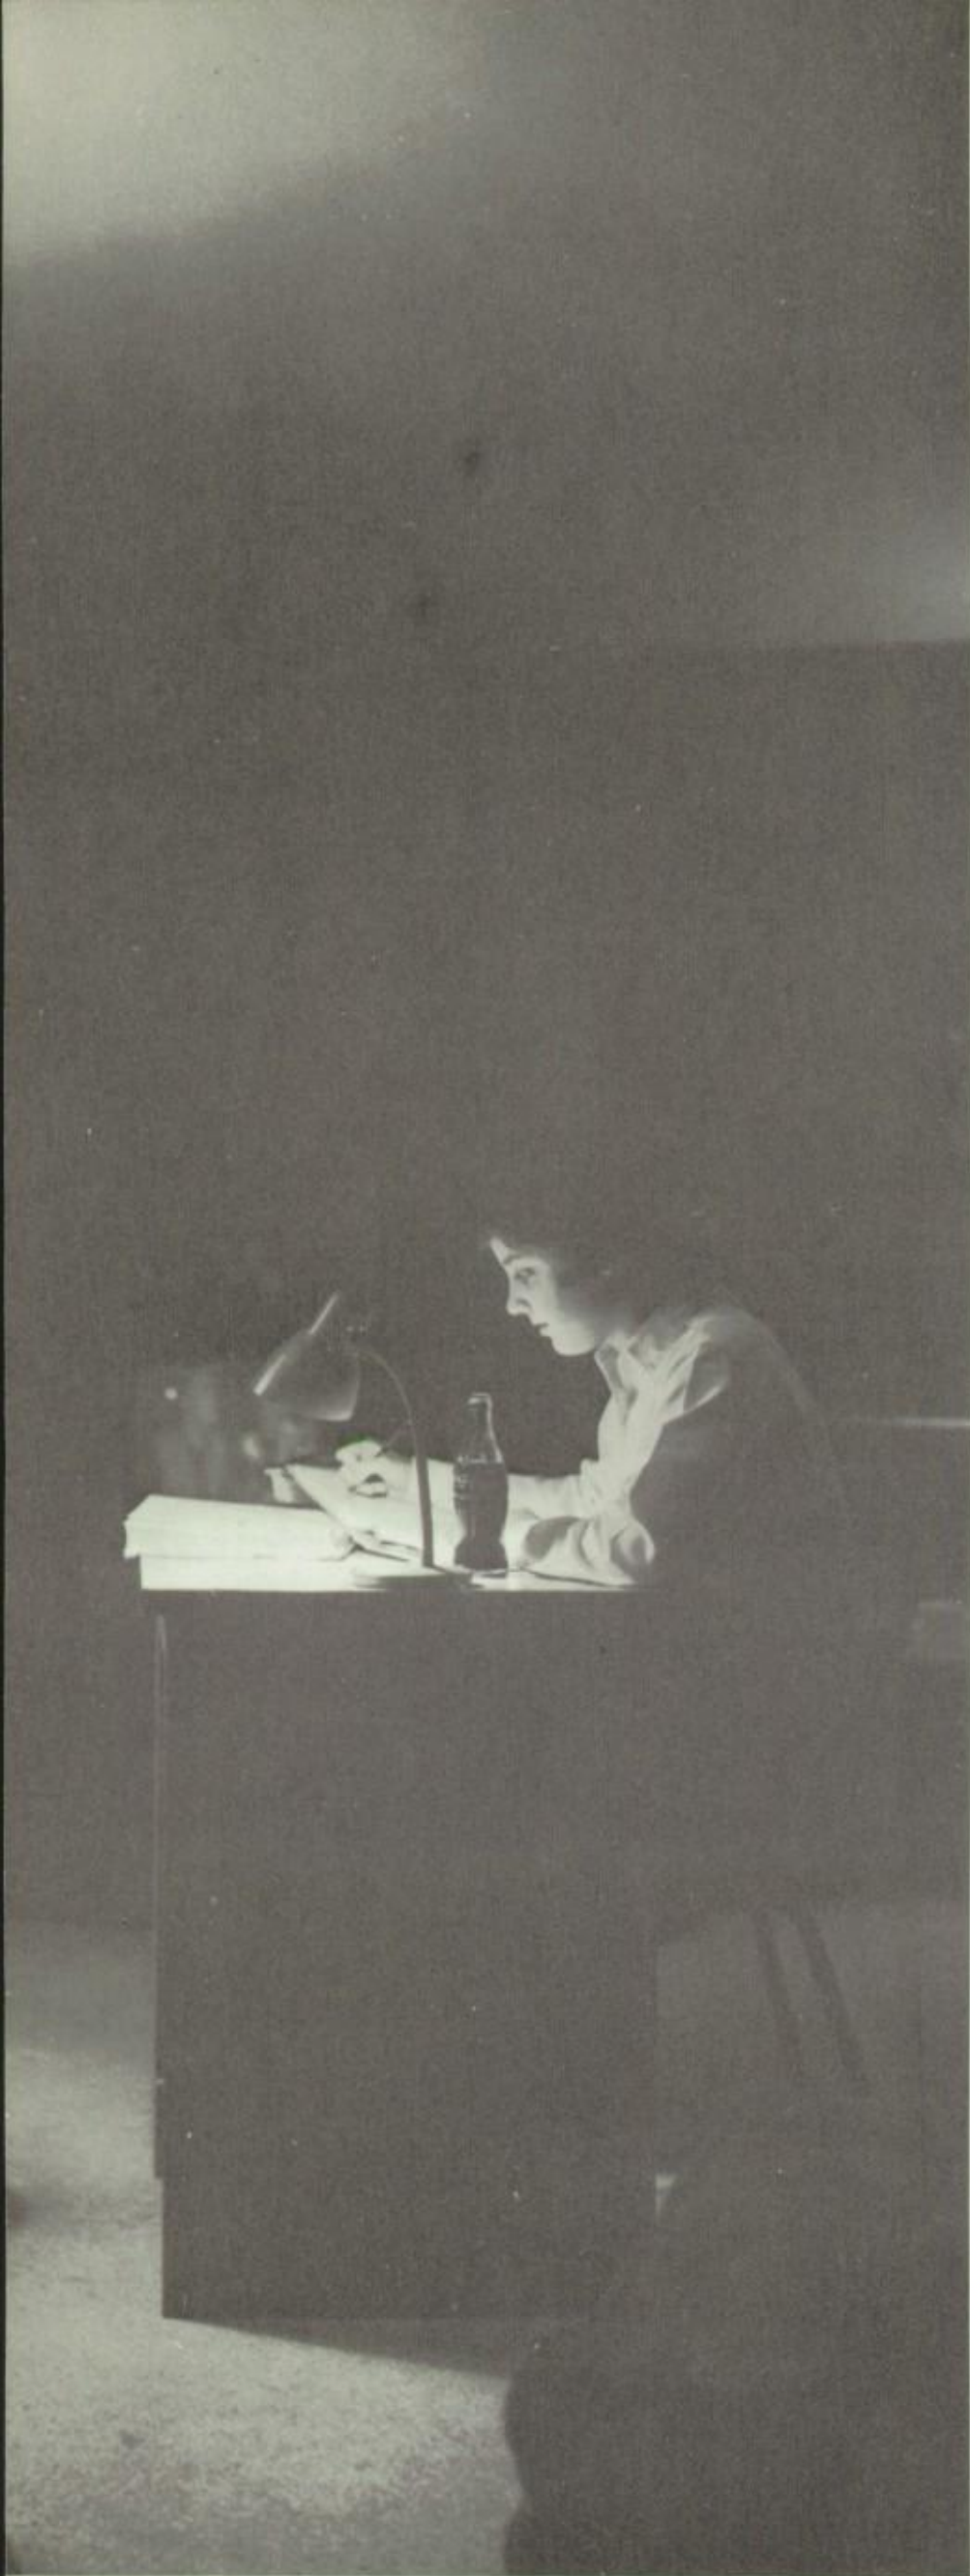

To Mary . . .

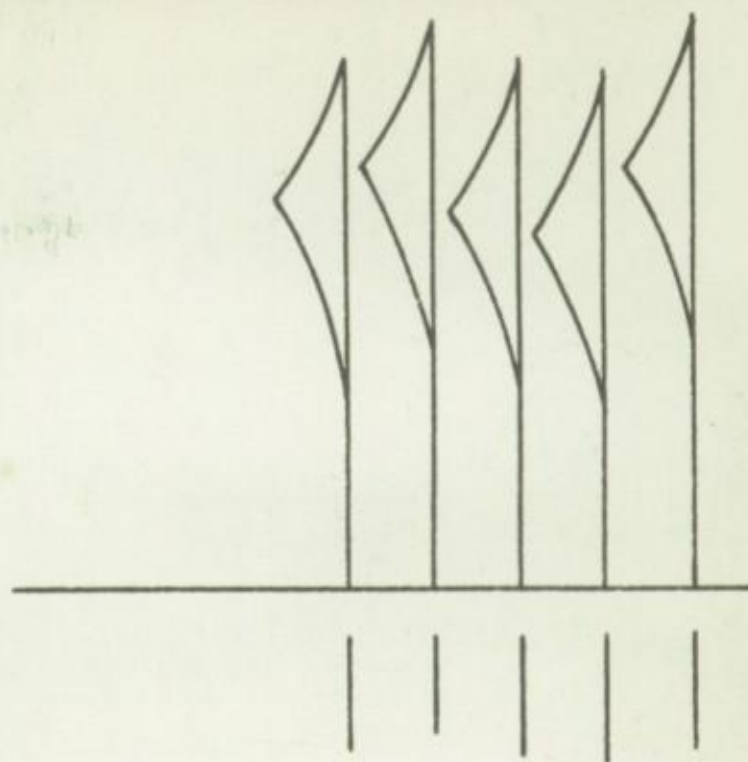

A Strong Residual Tradition

THE SODALIST PURSUES a path of spiritual perfection, obsessed with dedication to the Blessed Mother. Prefect: J. Isoda plans an agenda with unit leaders: D. Pashak, B. Kehrer and M. Knoblauch.

BOUND FOR THE T.S.S.A. at Visitation High School, Sodalists hope to acquire practical knowledge applicable to their work.

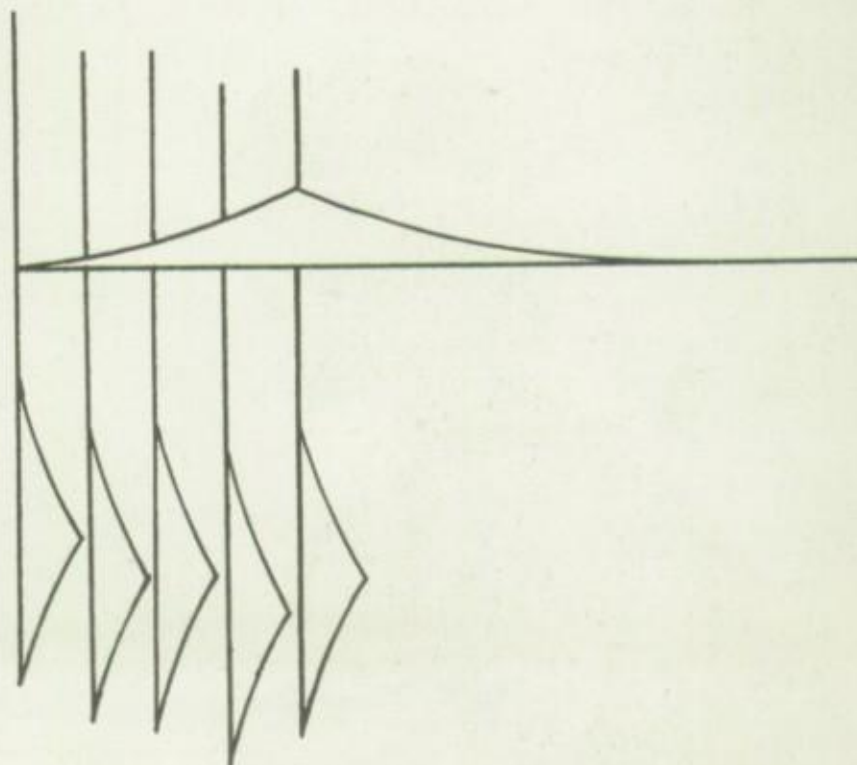

The Challenge To Learn

Abiding by the ramifications of our rational nature . . . nothing less than the best . . . striving to perfect our intellectual faculties . . . enabled to penetrate the sophistries of materialism . . . initiative + energy + inquiry = discovery . . . introduced to the humanistic perspectives . . . the quest for culture . . . minds trained in truth and fact . . . searching the tomes of ancient and contemporary scholars . . . every nine weeks a halocaust . . . faculty . . . students . . . union of minds . . .

Citizenship

A REALISTIC APPROACH TO MODERN-DAY LIFE is paramount to these members of citizenship class, A. Rytlewski, B. Suave, T. Karnath, and L. Reusegger, who utilize the news media to compliment their knowledge of national and international affairs.

PREPARING FRIDAY'S MENU may appear to be occupying these two boys, but actually Gary Johnson and Gary Ellavich are intent on the dissection of the fish in the Biology class of Sr. Joseph Ann O.P.

THE LAW OF CENTRIFUGAL FORCE is demonstrated by Joe Talisca for physics' students Diane LeRoux and Bill Fournier.

Drafting

THE LINEAR TREATMENT OF SIMPLE OR COMPLEX FORMS develops an appreciation by draftsman Fred Leonard for the infinite magnitude of the Master Designer.

A Pragmatic Approach That Puts Fun In The Functional

THE UTILIZATION OF BAY CITY'S RESOURCES occasioned the cooperation between education and industry. A field trip to L & W Tool and Engineering provided new slants on the aspects of casting and die progressions for the Drafting class.

MODERN INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS has all but rendered the blue print obsolete, but the methods of processing are new to C. Pajot and F. Leonard touring Bay City Blue Print.

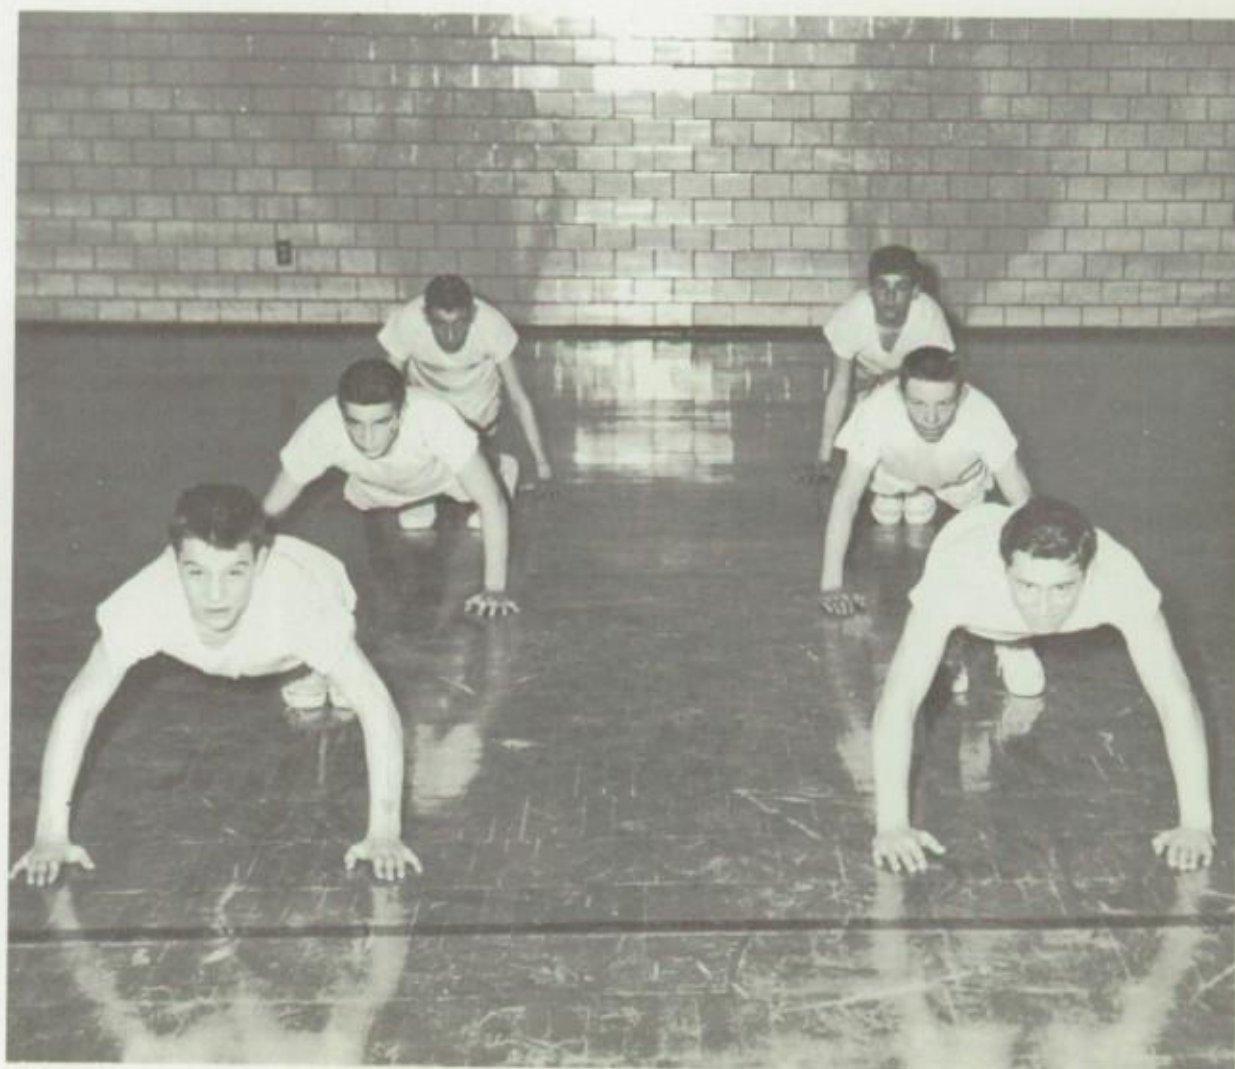

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAM finds staunch support from the physical education department as P. Cain, D. Thomas and T. LaVasseur prove fitness can be fun.

A COMBINATION OF BALANCE AND COORDINATION are reaped from exercises in isometric contraction and calisthenics to develop the physical growth of A. Rytlewski, R. Switzer, D. DeRosier, J. Pashak, P. Niemic, and D. Campbell.

A COOLING FOOTNOTE to a delightful unit on baking occupies the curious Gary Wack. Our heroines of the kitchen, Kathy Fekete and Joan Nedzeski eye the pies and the peeper for security's sake.

AN INCENDIARY SENTIMENT of orator L. Koby is conveyed in the gestures, animated by means of a double exposure.

English

SHADES OF MACBETH appropriately dominate the senior bulletin board. Shakespeare receives his proper due via Sister Mary Jordan O.P. English instructor.

A SECLUDED SANCTUM, BRIMFUL OF KNOWLEDGE, invites J. Zoller to "come in and browse". Library Secretary Mrs. Mildred Mills stands ready to make available the facilities of the library.

THE CLASS WITH CLASS ERUPTS IN LAUGHTER at an interpretation of "Brer Fox" by Sister Mary Jordan O.P. The Sophs learn to extract love and laughter from literary tours which heighten their appreciation of man and life.

Solemn Partner Of A Unique Environment

Religion

FATHER STARK DRIVES A POINT HOME in Senior Guidance as Gloria Villarreal; Donna Pashak, Barbara White, and Ben Wojciechowski listen intently for new insights. Marty LaPorte, foreground, apparently is counting on osmosis.

KEEPING INFORMED is the Guidance class of Sister Agnes Clare O.P., through regular perusing of THE CATHOLIC WEEKLY. Ready for a discussion led by M. Dasky are: S. Smith, B. Cain, S. Amick, M. Villarreal, M. E. Streu, T. King and G. Wack.

THE BIBLICAL ACCOUNT of the life of Samson is dramatically portrayed by: R. Schumacher, P. Niemiec, B. Brown, T. LeVasseur and P. Fournier, members of the Scripture class of Sister Ann Elizabeth O.P.

THE SYMBOLIC EXPRESSION OF AN IDEA takes shape in an art medium wholly new to sculpturer B. Schumacher.

PATTERNS IN STRUCTURAL RELATIONSHIPS offer an interesting exercise in lettering for J. Kaczynski, D. Jezewski, and J. Schreck.

Etudes In Form And Color

A REAL FRESH-AIR COURSE has much appeal for Mort Neff fans: J. Kopec, B. White, G. Ellavich and P. Gallagher who, with a palette of pigment, capture nature in its fall finery.

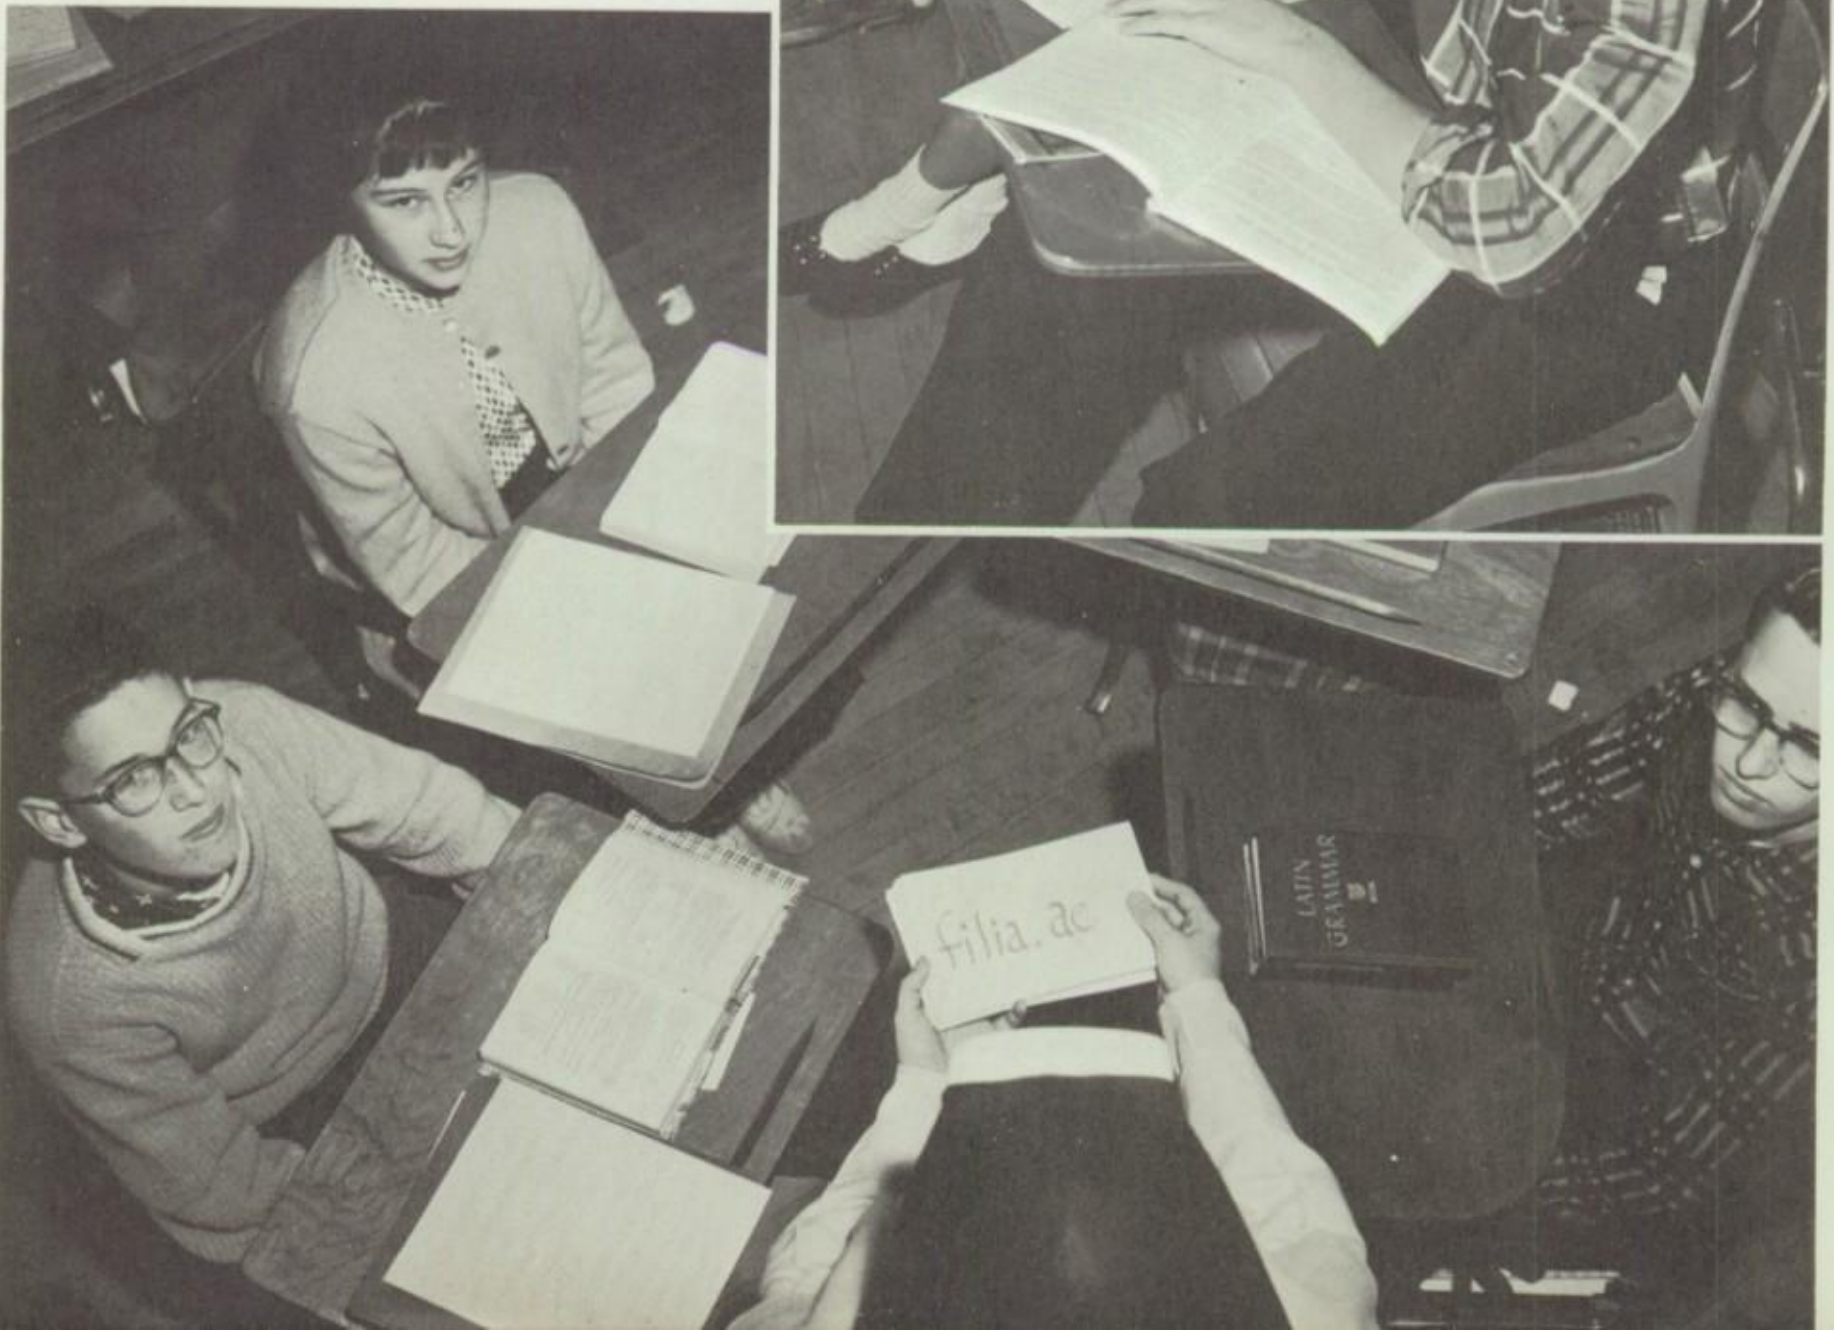

Romantic and Eternal . . . As Rome Herself

ENGLISH DERIVATIVES OF LATIN seem to close the gap between the languages. Paulette DuCharme makes a mental reservation of the vocabulary illustrated on the bulletin board.

Latin

CONCENTRATION ALWAYS HELPS second year students when completing exercises in their workbooks. T. Tobin, A. Sirmeyer, and J. Pashak will also agree to this axiom as Sister Ann Elizabeth O. P. drills them on vocabulary.

Competency Has Many Faces

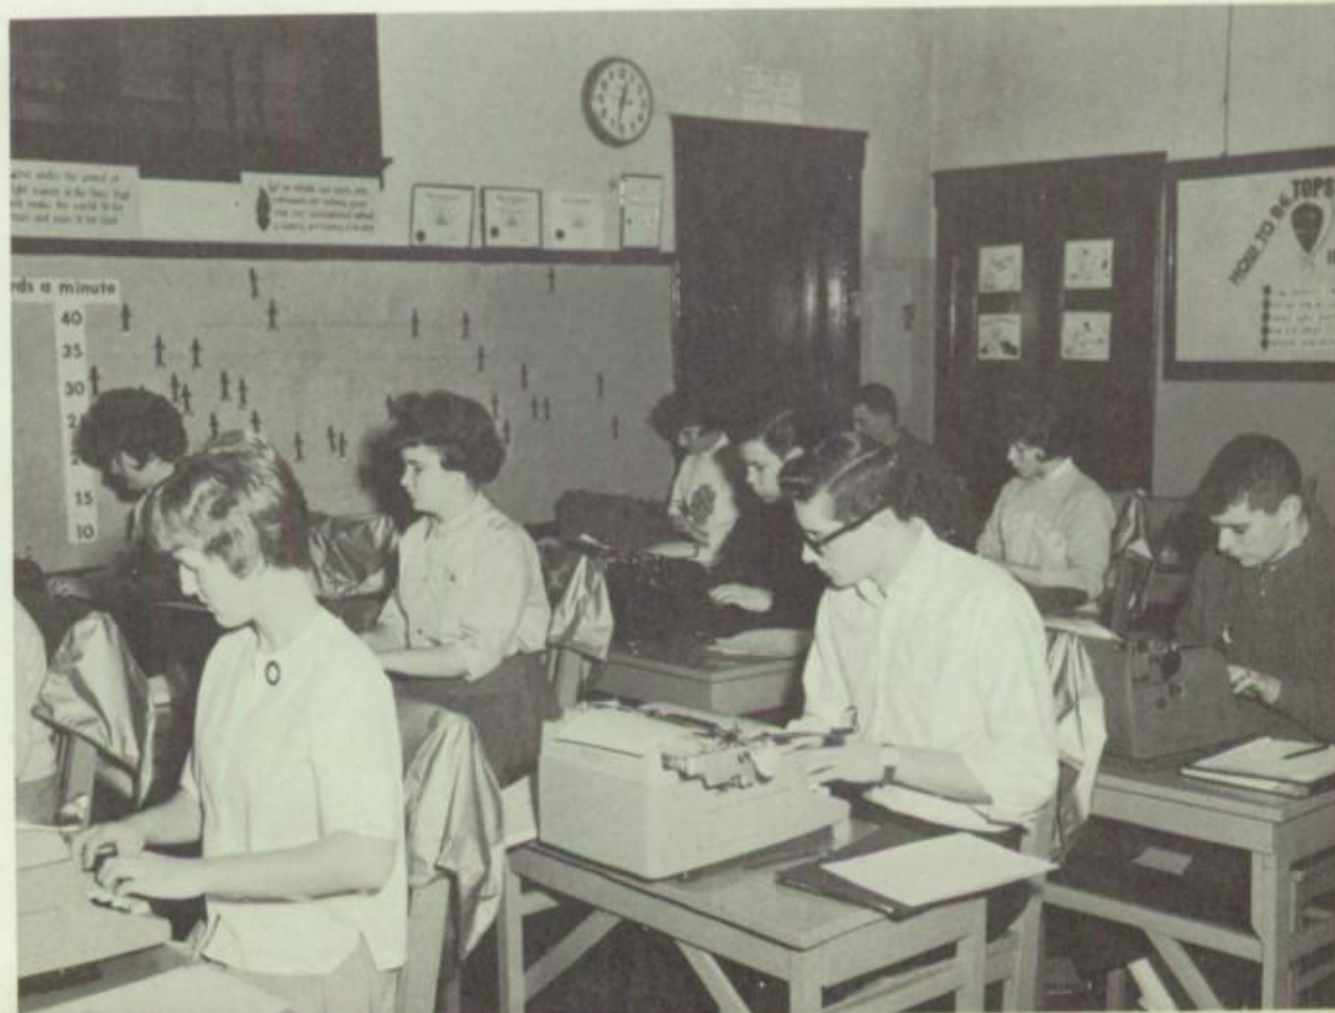

Commercial

THE GRAPH SERVES AS A FOCAL DEVICE in Record Keeping for D. Chalette and P. Gallagher, who transpose decimals and data into levels and longitudes.

THE ALLIANCE OF MIND AND MATTER weaves a mysterious guise of "hieroglyphics" for foreigners of shorthand, but scribe M. Pajot and K. Pashak find the style much to their liking.

THE STEADY STACCATO OF SOUND weaves a rhythm of maddening monotony as "the Robots" set their pace.

Social

THE COURSE OF HISTORY is the story of our society from its beginnings in Greece, Palestine and Rome, and developing through the many centuries. Anne Schell, Dorothy Martin, and Jim Taber graphically illustrate this using a globe of the world.

TELEVISION IN THE CLASS-ROOM is pioneered by St. Joseph in seeking to take advantage of the technicological progress of the age.

A MOCK POLITICAL CONVENTION proved to be just the tonic for the exuberant Senior Government class. Amid the fanfare of speeches, caucus meetings, demonstrations and politicking, a study unit on the political parties seemed to be too academic.

THE PERIMETER OF THE UNITED STATES frames these students of American History as Harry Grzegorzcyk explains the provisions of the Northwest Ordinance of 1787 to Russell Rice and Velma Ward.

Verbal Finery . . . The Ultimate In Self-Expression

THE FACULTY FOR CLEAR JUDGMENT and effective speech is buttressed by a reserve of pertinent data filed by Daniel Shauger.

THE IMPACT OF A CONVICTION is conveyed in a dramatic retort by the affirmative debater E. Kulas.

THE POETICS OF PRECISION, PLANNING, AND PRESENTATION run the gamut before the keen perception of debaters E. Kulas, L. Trahan, D. Gundlach, and M. Zielinski.

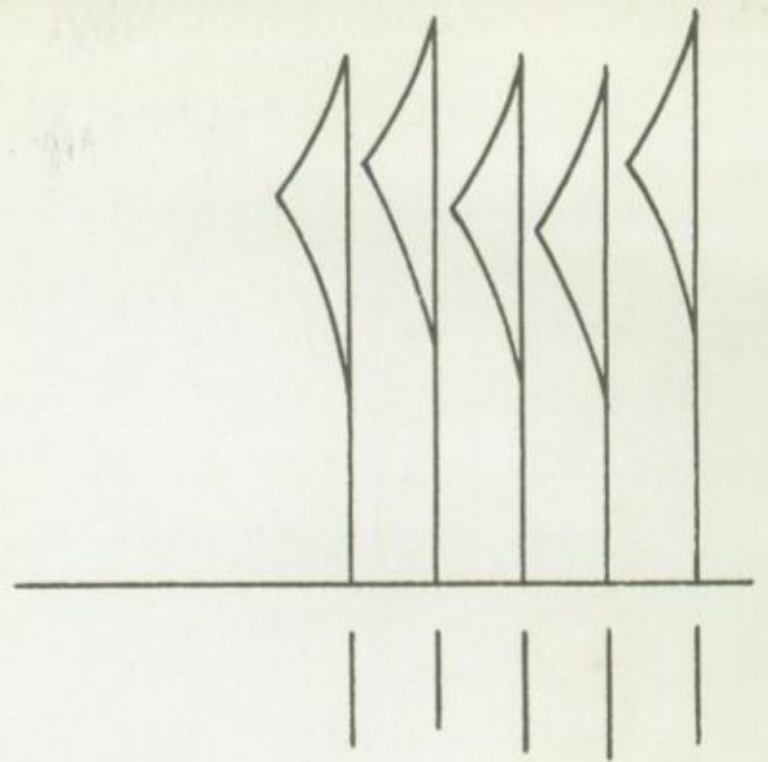

THE AIMS OF THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY were expounded as Sister Agnes Clare O.P. addressed the student body and welcomed the new members at the special honors assembly. New members received are: S. Meagher, J. Gillman, R. Marande, B. Reder, E. Kulas, M. Zielinski, B. Fournier, C. Holka, I. Verhanovitz, B. Brown and G. Ellavich.

N. H. S. Growth Parallels Scholastic Prosperity

Success Highlights 1961 Homecoming

THE 1961 FOOTBALL TEAM honored Gloria Villarreal by selecting her as the Team Sweetheart. Co-captains Felix Bosco and Ed Kulas smile their approval.

"WE'RE EXPECTING A VICTORY" read the caption inscribed on the unique float fashioned by art students. Excited fans look on while awaiting the half-time ceremonies . . . The tired dancers continued on as a memorable evening was brought to a close at our Homecoming Dance.

Through Combined Efforts Of All

THE STUDENT COUNCIL coordinated the preparations for the Homecoming Weekend. A particular task was assigned each class with wholehearted response. Spirit reigned high as the groups enthusiastically met their CHALLENGE. Chicken wire, paper napkins, blue paint, gold tinsel, and red roses were the tools used by creative minds and ambitious hands to provide the desired effect.

CORONATION CEREMONIES TAPER to a close as Queen Margaret accepts her bouquet of red roses from Student Council President, William Zoller. The atmosphere which prevailed throughout the Homecoming was expressed by the smiling senior attendants, Carol Holka and Marilyn McAllister.

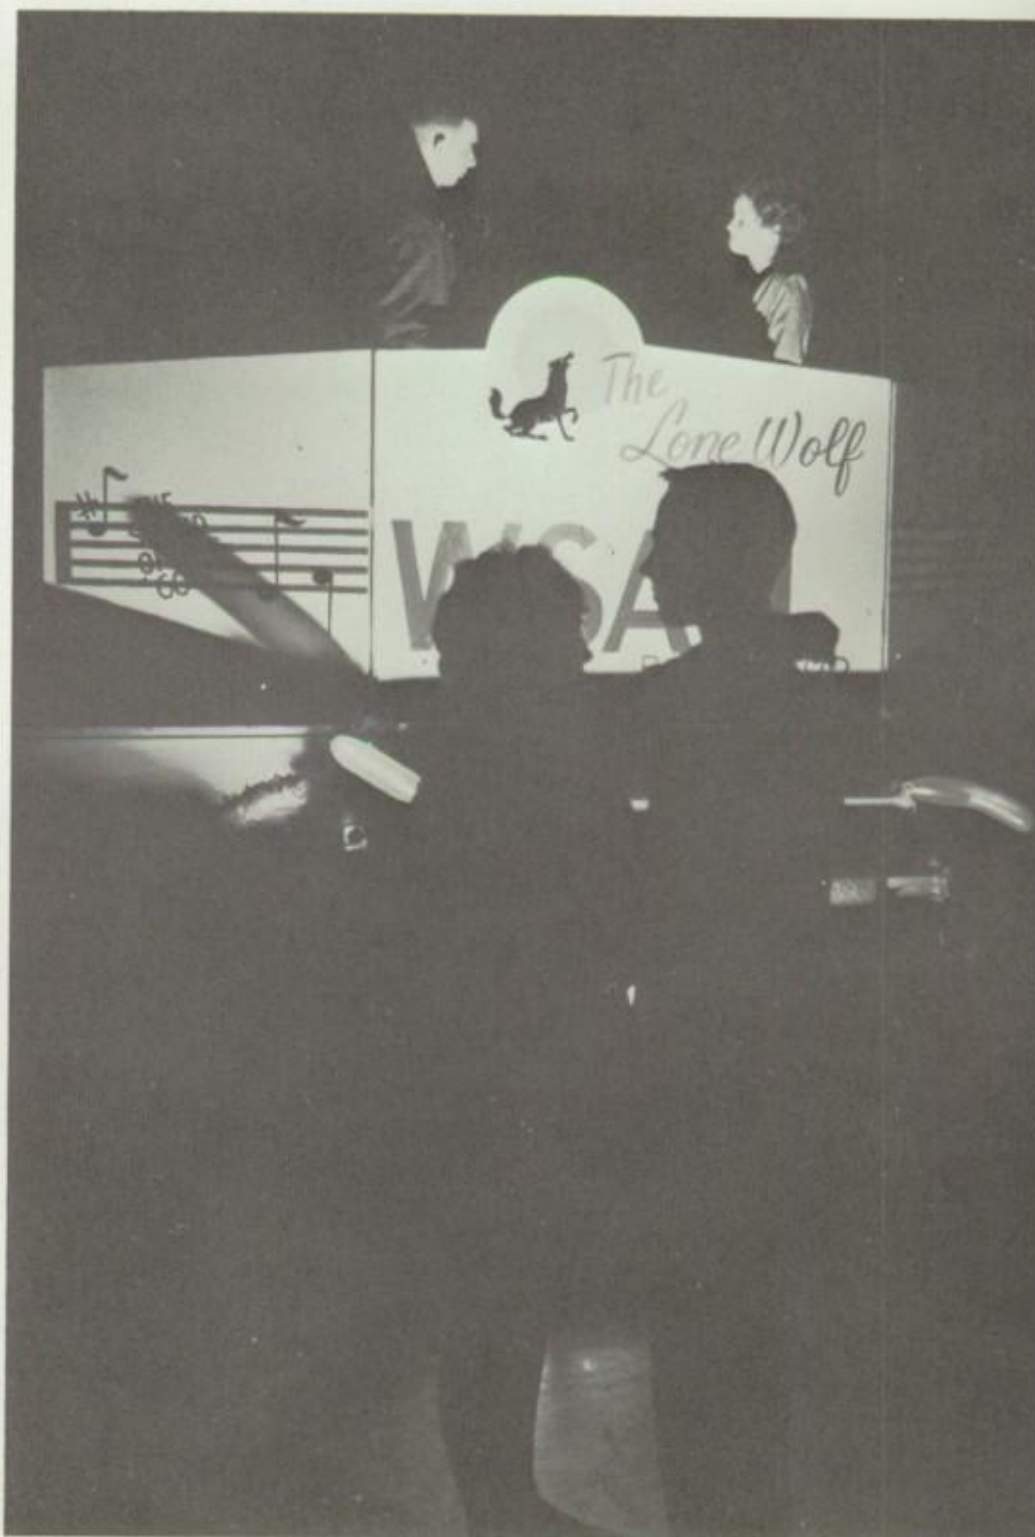

A COZY CONVENTION set upon inaugurating an ambassador of suave appearance is convoked by "chairman" R. Verbeke and "delegate" mirror.

FRESHMEN WAITING IN THE HALL outside the gym, timidly anticipate meeting the formidable seniors as a group for the first time. "What is behind those doors? What do they have planned for us?" were questions foremost in their minds.

AN IMPROMPTU BAND uses its talents to entertain the seniors and freshmen at the Welcome Party.

DANCING ON ANGLES, the freshmen, with senior partners, compete to keep their balloons inflated. The prizes weren't spectacular, but the spirit of fun prevailed throughout the party.

Student Ventures Rivet Community Fidelity

STUDENTS COME AND GO but the tradition of a school lives on. That of St. Joseph's is the story of a co-relationship between the school and the community of Bay City. The fetters of parochialism have failed to infringe the spirit of mutual reciprocity that has proven beneficial to school and community alike.

THE WHIRLING AQUA churns a therapeutic action on the limb of D. Cieslinski. A knee injury sustained in scrimmage makes progress toward recovery through use of the new whirlpool, purchased with funds from a benefit basketball game.

THE PERSISTANT PERSONALITY PREVAILS UPON THE PATRON and the cashier rings up another sale. D. Chalette and F. Szymanski make a frequent excursion to "market" to aid the cause of the Catholic magazine drive.

The Spirit Of Christmas Clothed In The Warmth Of Drama And Song

CAROLERS SERENADE THE CHRIST CHILD in the nativity scene portrayed by the Speech class. Carolers; E. Kulas, M. Adrian, B. Chalette, C. Mahoney, M. LeBeau, and C. Holka. Angels; S. Amick, C. Kussro, Blessed Virgin; M. E. Streu, St. Joseph; G. Wack, and shepherd, M. LaPorte.

THE SENIOR CHORUS accentuated the beauty of the meaning of the carols as they provided the musical element of the program.

THE TOWN CRIER PROCLAIMS the commencing of the Christmas celebration, reflected here in the face of Butch Bosco.

SPRINGTIME AUGMENTS THE ANNUAL CYCLE of anticipation, desperation and frustration. Before the Pied Piper enchantment escapes, consensus reveals that very few social events are more joyfully consuming than the Junior-Senior Prom.

Suddenly.....Its Spring!

A PAUSE IN THE PURSUIT OF THE PARTY PACE charges the social decorum of E. Kulas, B. Janczewski, M. Zielinski and M. McAllister.

Science Devotees Prime For The Fair's Finest Prize

THE ROLE OF PRESSURE in the atmospheric effects upon weather is demonstrated by D. Campbell who explodes a balloon covered with Gillette Foamy Shave.

THE PEP CLUB—Stepping in tune with the enthusiasm of the approaching game; members: R. Kuehne, N. Rohde, M. Militello and I. Verhanovitz board the chartered bus. The prime purpose of promoting student interest in school activities perpetuates the life of the club membership.

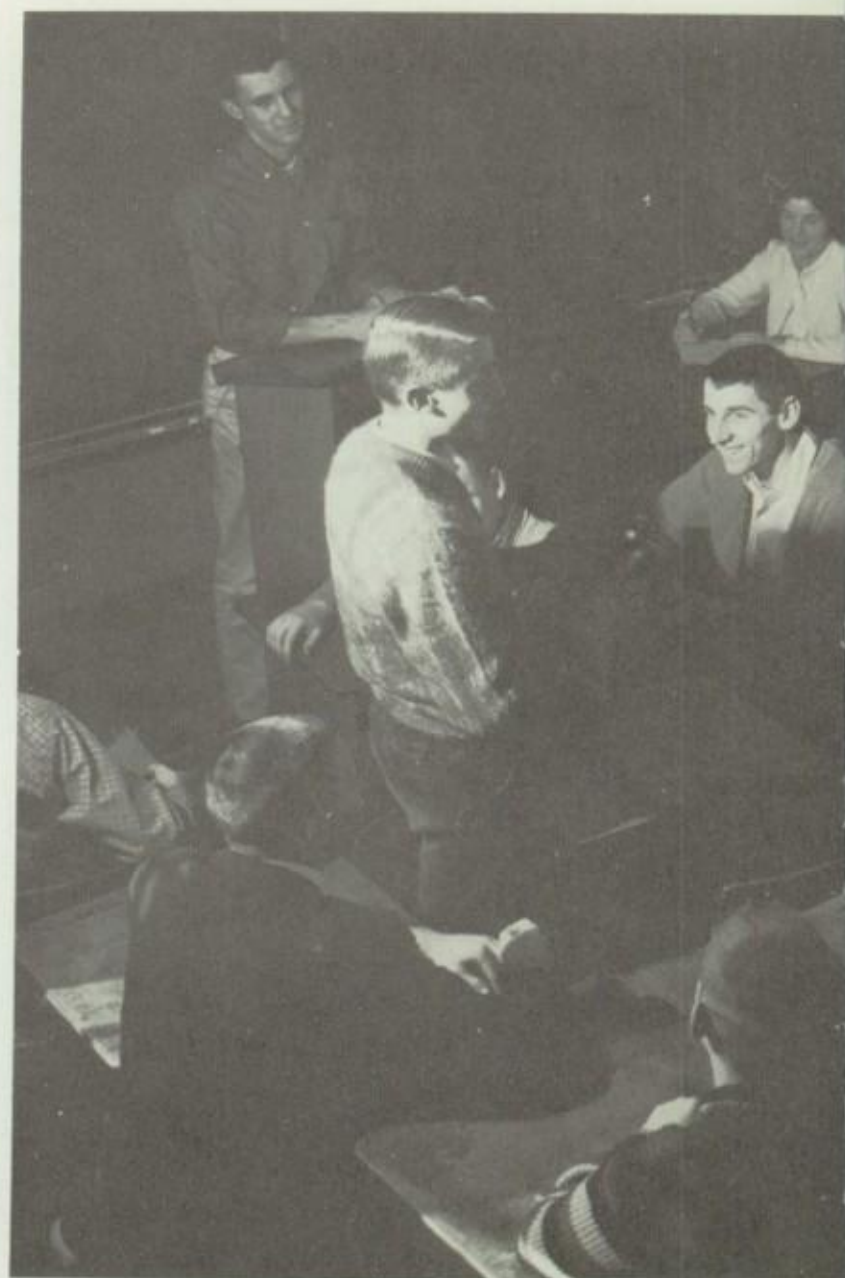

THE JETS-MISSILES—The marvels of the Space Age have rocketed interest in the new conquests of exploration for members: M. Knoblauch, J. Taber, J. Gillman and J. Meagher.

THE LIBRARIANS—The memorial donation of 150 books from the collection of the late Dr. John Freel, M.D., is recatalogued by librarians: B. Trahan, M. Freel, D. Ingle, D. Simpson, C. Freel, D. Purser, D. Martin, and P. Srebinski.

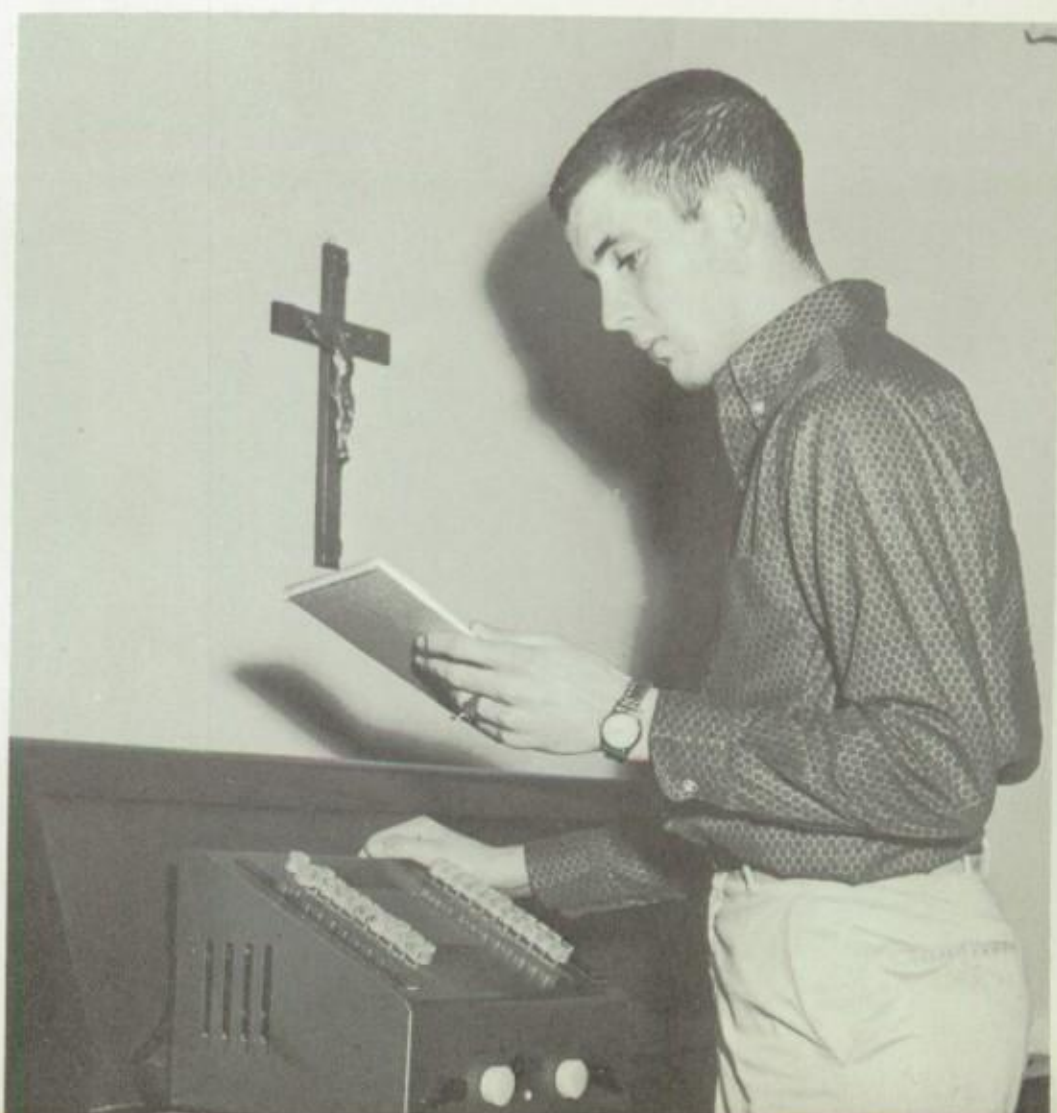

THE SERENE CALM OF THE LONG NARROW CELL lays wait for the moving mass of humanity that will absorb J. Mulroy and student councilor B. Mieske.

THE SOUNDING BOARD OF STUDENT OPINION employs the democratic processes to act with open understanding on the recommendations and proposals of student council representatives.

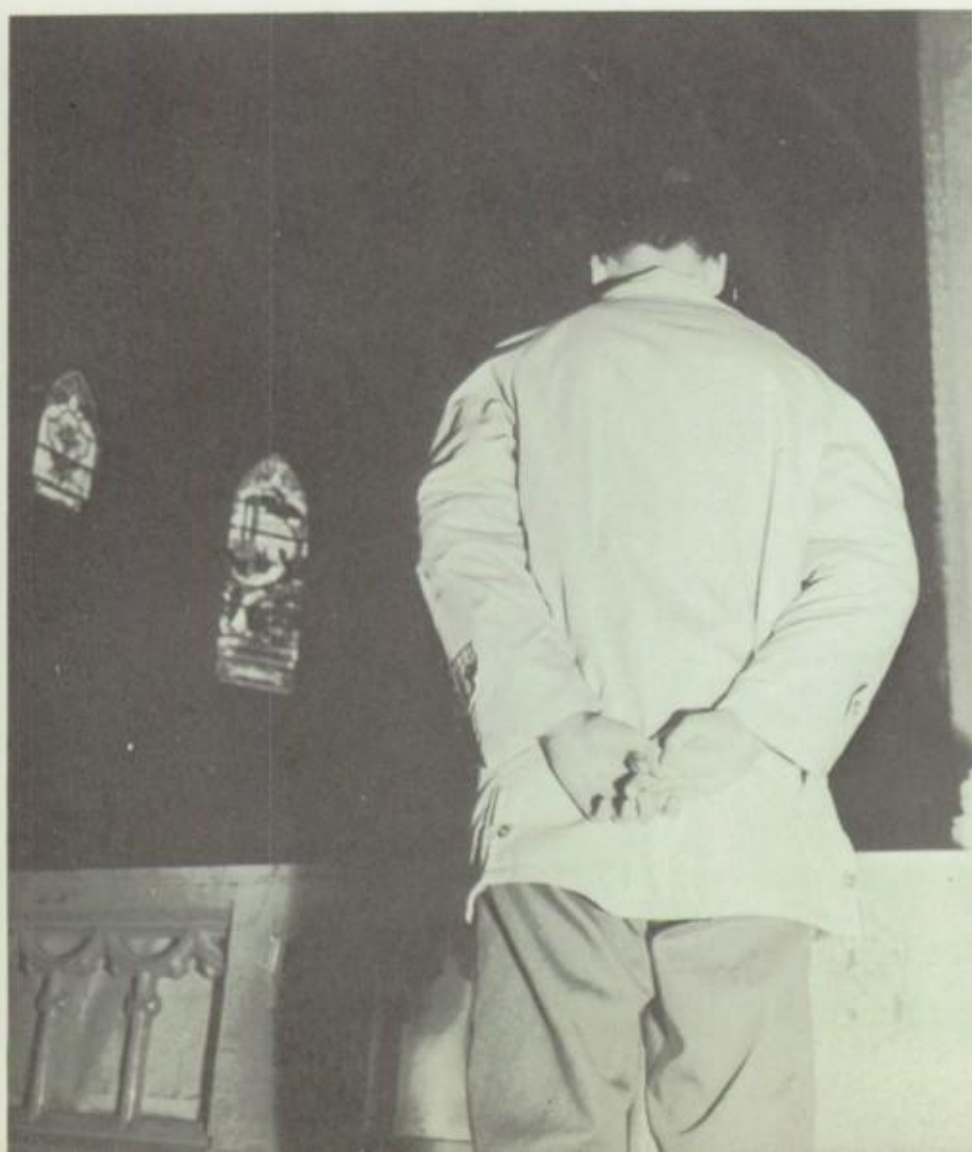

Student Council Lifts Old Routine With New Vitality

A CROSS FIRE from knowledge to nonsense beams over the P.A. Wire cutters could cause chaos. S.C. President Bill Zoller calls attention.

"IS THERE REALLY A BROWN COW IN THERE?" Student council efforts secured the coin operated milk machine, nickle-fed by B. Cain, J. Bergevin, and S. Hebert.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL excels in leadership and service. The familiar sight of a representative serves to maintain order for usher B. Cain.

FROM LATE AUGUST TO MIDDLE NOVEMBER the cadence of the quarterback barks through the smell of burning leaves, rain drenched skies, and frosty air to signal the endless repetition of practice sessions.

Drills Skills Produce Weekend's Thrills

A VAST REBUILDING JOB faced the coaches of St. Joseph in the fall of 1961. Weakened considerably by young and inexperienced personnel, the team worked with steadfast determination to maintain the prowess, traditional of St. Joseph on the gridiron. Pride seemed to be the driving force of a team that had to take its knocks. Desire was there. This is the whole story of football. With the loss of only six seniors this June, we look to 1962 with eager anticipation.

A CIRCUS CATCH by end Dennis Kaczmarek (81) spearheaded a touchdown drive in the traditionally hard fought game with arch-rival St. James.

"CAN'T TURN BACK NOW" concludes halfback Ed Kulas (21) as he sweeps the end for an appreciable gain against Bay City St. Mary. Larry Rabidue (64) and Dennis Kubczak (84) arrive too late to pave the path.

"TIME FOR GAMES," and the hard chargers take their turn at the blocking sled under the discerning eye of Coach Leahy. Manager Terry Leonard burdens their lot.

Vibrant Cheers Generate Team Response

THE RAZZLE DAZZLE OFFENSE stymies St. James as end Dennis Kaczmarek prepares to lateral to trailer Ed Kulas after receiving a pass from quarterback Jim Zacharko.

Without Whose Services We Cease To Be Progressive

FRANK BOWEN shoulders the responsibility of maintaining our buildings and grounds with a happy-go-lucky disposition. Clouds of dust trail him as he speeds about performing his numerous tasks.

A PLEASANT INTERIM to an energy consuming schedule is noontime in the cafeteria. Albert Witbrodt samples the soup, just like grandma used to make, as Mae Supernant awaits his comments. Mayme Bokhart, Irene Trudell, and Margaret Whaler also prepare and serve the well balanced menus.

MRS. ASSELIN meticulously executes her duties as school secretary. The many and varied services of the business office are also administered by this very capable and versatile friend of the student.

The Final Flashbulb

This, then, is the graphic expression of a story, —a story that takes on a new dimension because of the form in which it was conceived and found its completion.

With film for a canvas and light for a brush the subject of our final flashbulb has discerned and discriminated to summon a resourceful portrayal of the character, human warmth, and the beauty of the obvious. The photography is the creative effort of our advisor Gerry Boyd and has added significance to the 1962 "chronicle". The solenoid that triggers the last aperture, bears with it recollections of endless hours, frequent set-backs and tireless efforts.

Whatever intangibles, those refinements and qualities that comprise the aesthetic values, we shall have achieved in our presentation, we credit to Sister Mary Jordan O.P. The unwavering confidence, impulsive wit, and editorial assistance offered have played no small part in making this story a reality.

Though we tout individualism, this has been the result of team work . . . the staff, loyalty . . . the faculty, cooperation . . . our advertisers, confidence . . . Bradfords, senior portraits . . . Ken Drake of Edwards Brothers, planning . . . Together we have met the challenge. It has been our pleasure to be your hosts.
